

NEW: Share plans section in DMJ Recruitment's 2018-19 Salary Survey

ProShare is delighted to have partnered with David Press at DMJ Recruitment to produce a section on share plans professionals in their annual Co Sec salary survey.

When working in-house, it can also be hard for share plans professionals to gain clarity on how their pay and benefits benchmark against those of other share plans specialists in other organisations. We're therefore delighted to partner with DMJ in this report, in order to help share plans professionals better understand how the market values their skills, knowledge and experience.

There has long been an overlap between the administration, compliance and management of share plans in-house, and that of the company secretariat. Many of ProShare's corporate share plan issuer member companies employ individuals who also have completed the ICSA: The Chartered Governance Institute qualifying scheme and enjoy ICSA membership. With ProShare forming part of the Institute since May 2018, we are ideally placed to leverage both organisations' membership features and knowledge to enhance our respective offerings and better benefit our mutual members.
